O'NEILL SAYS ONE THING; THE RECORD SAYS ANOTHER

Assertions of Would-be Statesman Made in Plaza Speech Absolutely Refuted by Proved Facts in the Case.

OTHER POLITICAL NOTES OF MOMENT

Recent Exposition of Record of Henry F. Ashurst on Special Police Bill Destroys His Chances for Success.

One is not surprised at reckless and mendacious statements from Mr. Eugene Brady O'Neill who, despite that well known proclivity, is an aspirant for a seat in the senate of the United States. But it does seem a little strange that even he would allow his natural perversities to overcome his judgment in a case where a written record absolutely refutes his statements.

In his speech on the plaza Saturday night, O'Neill declared that while he was in Washington making his justly celebrated "fight for statehood," the Arizona Republican, the Arizona Democrat and the Phoenix Sun sent a telegram to that city advising that the initiative, the referendum and the recall be eliminated from the Arizona constitution, saying that these propositions were not wanted by the people of the territory.

There may have been a few people there at the Saturday night meeting inclined to believe that statement, as inevitably some of the audience were not personally acquainted with the speaker and were therefore ignorant of his habit of constructing facts to suit his own purpose, and the only telegram sent by these three papers to Washington is herewith reproduced. This message copied from the original, is as follows:

"Phoenix, August 4, 1911.
"To Senators Bacon, Borah, Shively, Owen, Kern, Gore, Chamberlain and Colleagues:

"As editors of newspapers, democratic and republican, we believe we honestly voice the desire of four-fifths of the people of Arizona when we implore the friends of Arizona in the senate to secure statehood for us at this session upon whatever terms will be granted by a majority of both houses and secure the approval of the president. The vital and urgent interests of Arizonians demand immediate certainty as to our future status and depend for enterprise and prosperity upon early statehood. We know the great majority of our people are willing to trust our cause with the best of final judgment of our friends in the senate and we beg you to assure all of them.

(Signed)
"J. O. DUNBAR, Arizona Democrat.
"SIMS ELY, Arizona Republican.
"SAM W. SMALL, Phoenix Sun."
Just how anybody, even a democratic candidate for United States senator, could possibly distort that telegram into a demand for the elimination of any part of the constitution is a little difficult to understand.

The telegram asked for immediate statehood upon the best terms obtainable, and that is precisely what we got. And Mr. O'Neill is himself advising the acceptance of those terms.

It is pretty well understood that Mr. O'Neill, no use his own language, is willing "to say anything to be elected," but that he would take a chance on talking against a printed record is hardly a tribute either to his mental honesty or to his intelligence.

In the language of a well-known Phoenix democrat the wide publicity given the fact that while a member of the legislature Henry F. Ashurst voted for and worked for the bill providing that railroads should have the right to employ their own "police officers," has probably "poaked Mr. Ashurst's political goose."

"Workingmen generally," this man says, have always looked askance upon this proposition that railway corporations or any other corporation should be granted the right to appoint anybody to positions of this kind. They believe in law and order but they think law and order should be maintained by the properly constituted authorities of the government. They do not believe that any corporation should be allowed to go into the governing business to this extent."

Since the story was published nothing has been heard about the matter from Mr. Ashurst. But, it is pointed out, there is nothing strange about that, since it is rather hard for a man to deny the written record.

Various papers throughout the state have attacked Brady O'Neill's record on the labor question, asserting that he failed to keep his word to one of the labor unions of this city with

MINING PROMOTERS WILL GO TO TRIAL

Get Rich Quick Men Have Chance to Explain in Court Their Business Methods.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—George Graham Rice, Bernard H. Scheffels and other members of the brokerage house of B. H. Scheffels & Co., indicted for fraudulent use of the mails in connection with the sale of mining stocks, will be placed on trial in the federal court before Judge Ray tomorrow. The offices of the Scheffels concern in Broad street were raided by postoffice inspectors about a year ago. The books of the company were seized and are now in the possession of the prosecution. It is alleged that vast sums were received from credulous investors all over the country for "securities" that were practically worthless.

George Graham Rice admitted that he was the real head of the Scheffels concern and in a series of magazine articles described the methods of enlisting public support for his ventures. Rice started his "get rich quick" career as a race track tipster, advertising his "private information" in papers all over the country, and reaped a golden harvest from this source. Then he went to Goldfield, Nev., and for a time was one of the leading figures in that town. Attorneys for Rice and Scheffels attacked the constitutionality of section 215 of the federal criminal code relating to the use of the postoffice establishment in suppressing schemes to defraud. The constitutionality of the act was upheld by Judge Hough, who said:

"If the national government may and indeed must conduct a postoffice it certainly may prescribe the way in which all persons shall deal with it, and it is a legitimate exercise of this delegated power to say in effect (as section 215 does) that any one who deals with the postoffice in the ordinary way 'for the purpose of executing' any scheme or artifice to defraud shall be a criminal."

"There is an obvious distinction," continued Judge Hough, "between constitutional and political expediency or wisdom. The present statute practically relieves the states of the necessity of prosecuting most forms of commercial frauds and imposes upon the national government the duty of doing by indirect means what the states ought to do directly. The swindler is punished (as all the world knows) really for his swindle, but his nominal offense consists in putting a letter into the postoffice which in and of itself may be wholly innocuous."

After the Scheffels case is disposed of the United States attorneys will prepare for the trial of Burr Bros., another mining and industrial brokerage firm, which was raided a year ago. The Burr concern handled the stock of the Chicago & New York Electric Air Line railroad and various other companies.

THEY KEEP MEXICAN TROOPS QUITE BUSY

Rebels Blow Up Bridges, Burn a Station and Twice Engage the Federal Soldiers.

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22.—Two bridges blown up, one station burned and two small battles with federal troops form today's record of the Zapata campaign. The apparent inability of the federals to put down the Zapata rebels leads to the belief that pacification in the south remains for Madero when he assumes the presidency next month. The bridge destroying occurred today near the state line of Morales, Mexico. The Zapata station was burned. It is estimated that 500 Zapatistas were engaged.

NO NEWS IN THIS.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Oct. 22.—McNamara brothers, charged with the Times dynamiting, spent a quiet Sunday. Attorney Darrow visited their cell, but declared no importance could be attached to the visit other than he wanted to talk with John J. about routine matters. He had not seen John since the trial of James began. The trial will be resumed tomorrow with a ruling by Judge Bordwell on the challenges for cause of three talesmen.

CATHOLIC YOUNG MEN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Reports of great gains in membership, influence and enthusiasm will be presented tomorrow at the opening of the convention of the Roman Catholic Young Men's National union. Nearly all of the state branches are represented in the meeting, which will be concluded Tuesday.

JUPITER PLUVIUS IS 'AGIN' BASEBALL

It is Raining Again in Philadelphia and Game Has Been Postponed Once More.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 22.—Rain began falling here again shortly before 6 o'clock tonight, effectively killing all hope that the grounds at Shibe park will be in condition for play in tomorrow's game of the world's series between New York and Philadelphia. Nature has done little to dry out the field since yesterday's postponement. Rain fell steadily throughout the night until 9 o'clock this morning, when the clouds broke. It recouled shortly afterward. The ground keepers are working hard to put the diamond in shape, but it is practically certain the game cannot be played until Tuesday.

TAFT IN NORTHWEST.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22.—President Taft is to spend tomorrow in South Dakota, his program including stops at Pierre, Huron and Aberdeen. He will come to this city Tuesday, by way of Cologne, Shakopee, Mankato, Waterville, Faribault and Randolph. Wednesday will be spent in St. Paul, and Thursday in Wisconsin, with stops at Green Bay, Appleton, Oshkosh and Fondulac, enroute to Milwaukee. Friday the president will arrive in Chicago, where he will remain over Saturday, Sunday and a part of Monday.

MARYLAND ENDEAVORERS.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 22.—Christ-lan Endeavor societies of Maryland convene their annual state meeting tomorrow at Coloma and will continue in session three days.

BOSTON POLICE ARE MAKING NO HEADWAY

Investigation of Linnell Murder Case Seems to Be Just Where It Was Yesterday.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—In their efforts to clear up the circumstances surrounding the death of Avis Linnell, the Sunday school teacher with whose murder Rev. Clarence V. T. Richeson is charged, the police are unable, it is said, to locate the receptacle which held the poison with which the girl ended her life. At the time of her death, Miss Linnell wore a bathrobe over her nightgown. It was learned this was buried with the body and it was thought for awhile that the body would be exhumed, in the belief that the bottle was thrust into a pocket; but the physicians said they searched the robe and found nothing. The police say they have evidence to prove that Richeson dined with the girl shortly before she took the fatal dose.

Morning worship at the Emmanuel Baptist church in Cambridge passed without reference of any kind to the plight of the congregation's pastor. Contrary to report, Richeson did not resign. Miss Violet Edmonds, Richeson's fiancée, is reported seriously ill as a result of nervous shock. It is reported that Richeson released her from their engagement, but her father today refused to affirm or deny the story. It is reported the Edmonds girl's fortune will be used in Richeson's defense.

FOWLER AT BANNING.

BANNING, Cal., Oct. 22.—After flying forty miles from Riverside, Aviator Fowler halted his flight temporarily this morning when one cylinder of his engine failed to work. He came down at Stewart's ranch, five miles west of this place, where the damage was repaired. Fowler and his mother are spending the night here.

The aviator will start tomorrow morning from Stewart's and expects to reach Yuma. He flew forty miles against a twenty-mile wind in one hour.

HE IS STILL GOING.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Oct. 22.—C. P. Rodgers, coast-to-coast aviator, arrived here this afternoon, making forty-five miles in a flight from San Marcos in fifty-five minutes. He started this morning two miles north of Kyle, which is ten miles beyond San Marcos. This afternoon he made an exhibition flight over the city.

BOWIE HANDICAP.

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 22.—With the Bowie handicap, two miles, $2,000 added, as the feature, the race meeting of the Maryland Jockey club at Pimlico will close tomorrow. The Bowie is the big stake of the meet and has attracted excellent entries. The Consolation steeplechase, a selling handicap, will also be run off tomorrow.

NEW ENGLAND FRUIT SHOW.

BOSTON, Oct. 22.—Horticultural products of the six northeastern states will be on display in the Mechanics' building tomorrow at the opening of the annual New England Fruit show. An industrial exposition will be held in connection with the exhibit of fruits.

AVIATOR IS BURIED.

OXFORD, Iowa, Oct. 22.—The funeral of Eugene Ely, the aviator, who was killed on Thursday at Macon, Ga., was held at his mother's home here today.

HERE'S THE DOPE SHEET

Race for the Democratic Nomination for Governor is Considered Close With Weedon Slightly in the Lead.

WINSOR LOOKS A PROBABLE WINNER

In Race for Senator, Smith is First Choice, Ashurst or Ives Second, Ling Well Up in Front, and O'Neill Nowhere.

With the primaries only a day away the interest in the contest for state and national county candidates is at fever heat. This interest is not confined to any particular party. As a matter of fact it seems to be pretty evenly distributed. While the socialists are not figuring on pulling down any of the offices at the election in November there is nobody more deeply interested in the political situation than are they.

Because of the multiplicity of candidates who are representative of that party it is natural there should be more attention paid to the democratic aspirants than to any other. And in this regard the comments and prophecies one hears are interesting beyond measure.

The chief interest is in the fight for governor and for United States senator. As to the gubernatorial fight there is a pretty strong belief that it is going to be a mighty close contest with the chances probably slightly favoring Weedon. That was the consensus of opinion expressed by a number of representative democrats who last night gave vent to their opinions.

In the matter of the senatorship the story was the same as one has heard everywhere for the past week, though there were a few variations. "Mark Smith first" is the one part of the story, however, that has not changed. There seems no doubt in anybody's mind that Smith will win in a walk.

Aside from that there is a variety of opinions as expressed by the men referred to above. Ashurst second with Ives third, was one view. Another held that Ling will show up with a surprising strength is the belief of several.

The significant part of all the prophesying was that not one man in the party considered that Brady O'Neill has the remotest chance of being nominated. It is hardly expected that he will land better than fifth.

"Brady's a good friend of mine and I will vote for him if the Gazette will cut out its attacks on Mark Smith," said one man. "But there is one thing certain, O'Neill has no show and it is the Gazette that has beaten him. When the Gazette printed its attacks on Smith I happen to know that he sent to that paper a refutation of the stories but the Gazette deliberately suppressed it. It wouldn't let him tell his side. The Gazette calls itself a democratic paper but if that is democracy then I don't know the meaning of the word."

It is a significant fact that every one of the men, and they were all democrats, taking part in this conversation, with a single exception, voiced the same sentiment—that ill-advised and untruthful assertions regarding Mr. Smith had had the effect of rallying to his support. As Mr. O'Neill is known to be hand-in-glove with the Gazette it was inevitable that he should be held in part responsible, so that in the reputation of the Gazette O'Neill has been repudiated also.

Winsor will probably win the congressional nomination over Hayden, a frequently expressed belief, though that view is by no means universal. Jeff Adams is sure to win the nomination for sheriff and Don Babbitt will get an almost unanimous vote for the legislature, were the forecasts that closed the prophesying.

PORTLAND WINS THE COAST LEAGUE FLAG

Snappy Contest Between That City and Vernon Was Decided in Favor of Former.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—Portland won first place in the Coast pennant race, which ended today. It also won the pennant last year. The championship was closely contested by Happy Hogan's Vernon team. The race was virtually settled last week when Vernon was badly beaten in a series. Portland's percentage is 589, Vernon's 573. Oakland, Sacramento, San Francisco and Los Angeles finished in the order named.

UNITARIANS HOLD A MEETING AT CAPITAL

Delegates Turn Down Dogmatic Question and Devote Their Attention Solely to Worldly Affairs.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22.—Delegates representing Unitarian churches and affiliated organizations from the Atlantic to the Pacific will meet in this city tomorrow to begin the biennial national conference of the denomination. The sessions will continue four days.

The questions before the convention are of an exceedingly interesting and practical character and deal principally with the affairs of this world. Matters of dogma are declared by Unitarian leaders to be no longer of vital importance, but problems of social service are forcing themselves to the front, especially the duty to the helpless and dependent elements of society. The purpose of the conference, as announced in the call, is to accomplish "more and better work for the kingdom of God."

President Taft, who is a member of the Unitarian church, will not be present, as hoped, but a number of men and women of national prominence will address the sessions. Mr. Taft is honorary president of the National League of Unitarian Laymen, which will also meet here during the week.

The Unitarians now have about 500 churches and 600 ministers, with about 75,000 communicants. The property held by the church is valued at about 75,000 communicants. The properties, especially Massachusetts, had in membership, but Unitarianism has made great advances of late years in the central and Pacific coast states.

FOWLER PASSES UP THE CAPITAL CITY

NO INDUCEMENT OFFERED HIM TO COME HERE.

Would Take Him Seventy Miles Out of His Course With Nothing To Gain.

Norwood R. Cooper who is representing Aviator Robert G. Fowler as pathfinder and business manager, spent yesterday in Phoenix, a guest of the Commercial. The Republican announced yesterday morning that Fowler who is flying east from Los Angeles, with the Atlantic seaboard as his destination, expected to be in Phoenix today and Cooper came ahead to see if local institutions would offer inducements for him to come here; if not, the plan was to follow the Southern Pacific to Tucson and give Phoenix the go-by. Not finding a responsive chord yesterday and the time being short, Cooper left last night for Tucson. He said that Fowler as soon as he heard from him would doubtless decide to follow the railroad and make a long flight from Yuma to Tucson, possibly a record for one day's flying.

Cooper called on the fair commission yesterday but that body could not see where it would help the fair any to take up Fowler now. The board of trade in like manner did not want to get behind an exhibition for today without previous advertising, and there was no organization of citizens who felt equal to the emergency of a guarantee or bonus Cooper left in good spirits though he had hoped that he could arrange for a show this afternoon.

Speaking of Fowler he said that he left Riverside Saturday but encountered a high wind and sand storm before he had gone far, and he returned to Riverside for the night, expecting to start early yesterday morning for Banning, where two mechanics and a supply of gasoline awaited him. If the storm subsided Cooper thought Fowler would not only make Banning but get as far as Yuma last night. That was his plan when he talked with him from Yuma over the long distance telephone Saturday night.

Their plan then was for him to make an early start from Yuma this morning and reach Phoenix about 1 o'clock today. He wired him the situation last night and it is now likely that if Fowler has good luck he will pass Maricopa about noon today. Cooper figures that it would be about seventy miles out of Fowler's way to come to Phoenix to say nothing of breaking the course that offers an opportunity for a record long distance flight. Fowler entered for the Hearst prize but now that that is pulled down he proposes to make the cross country flight anyway, trying to pick up enough exhibition money to play even.

MONETARY BOARD IN WEST.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 22.—Representatives of the financial and commercial bodies of Minneapolis and the northwest will be afforded an opportunity to express their opinions of the Aldrich currency plan at the hearing of the national monetary commission here tomorrow. While the scheme finds favor with many bankers, it is evident that the name of Aldrich is considered a "hoax" by the great majority of the people of the northwest, and especially the farmers, who look with distrust upon any plan of reform emanating from the former senator from Rhode Island.

SENDS CALL FOR TROOPS

National Guard Will be Needed in Ending Race War Which Broke Out Last Night in Black Belt of Oklahoma.

NEGRO WHO RAN AMUCK WAS KILLED

Trouble Occurred at Coweta in Heart of District Which is Populated Largely by Blacks From Far South.

COWETA, Okla., Oct. 22.—Ed Suddeth, a negro, was shot to death tonight by a mob of citizens who armed themselves following a battle this afternoon between whites and blacks in which Suddeth killed J. B. Beavers, city attorney and wounded Carmen Oliver and Steller Thompson, all white men.

Suddeth was wounded and then strung up to a water tank but was cut down before being strangled to death. Leaders of the mob kept the negro a prisoner in a vacant building. Deputy Sheriff Flowers attempted to take the slayer to jail tonight at Wagoner, but as the negro was being lifted into an automobile the mob opened fire and his body was riddled by bullets.

It is estimated that Suddeth has fifty holes in his body. Large numbers of enraged negroes are arriving tonight from the surrounding country, and a race war seems inevitable. The white men of the town are patrolling the streets and guarding the homes the best they can, fearing to place the women and children aboard trains lest the blacks make an attack.

The trouble started yesterday when a telegraph operator named Swager, while walking with a girl collided with a negro named Ed Ruse. Ruse, who in passing, shoved the girl from the sidewalk. Swager and another white man attacked Ruse. One held him while the other beat him. Today Ruse walked the streets with a long knife in his pocket "looking for the man who held him." City Marshal Hart ordered Ruse to give up the knife, when Ruse shot at him. That instant Suddeth ran out of the house opposite, and opened fire, instantly killing Beavers and wounding Thompson who was passing at the time and had taken no part in the trouble. Suddeth took refuge in a nearby house which several white men surrounded and bombarded. The house was set afire and Suddeth shot and slightly wounded as he ran. He was taken to a tank house and hunged but through fear of precipitating a race riot his captors cut him down before he was dead. There are twelve hundred people in Coweta and one-third of these are negroes. The county is populated largely by negroes and if the blacks wished, they would be able to bring 2,000 into town before morning. Negro emissaries hurried out to the surrounding towns with the avowed intention of bringing enough of their race here to wipe the town off the map. Sheriffs from Wagoner, Tulsa and Muskogee counties are enroute with reinforcements for the authorities.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 22.—A long distance telephone message tonight from the sheriff's office at Wagoner says a large body of negroes, heavily armed, are marching from Red Bird, Oklahoma, upon Coweta, swearing vengeance. Further trouble is regarded as certain.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 22.—There are rumors of other deaths at Coweta. These are unconfirmed, but citizens of Muskogee are being armed and rushed to Coweta, 25 miles from here.

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 22.—Company C, of the Oklahoma national guard, has been ordered to assemble at once and proceed to Coweta. A special train was made up to convey the troops.

ROTTEN EGG CASES.

NEW YORK, Oct. 22.—Sixteen cases in which bakeshop keepers and others charged with using spotted and rotten eggs are on the calendar of the court of special sessions for trial tomorrow. The prosecutions were instituted by inspectors of the health department and resulted from the department's campaign against the sale of eggs and other foods unfit for use. At some of the places, the inspectors allege, several cases of liquid eggs, with partially hatched chickens, were found.

REBELS WIN SECOND TIME

The Main Army of the Chinese Government, Consisting of 20,000 Men, is Said to Have Been Badly Defeated.

REPORT IS CABLED TO SAN FRANCISCO

Spread of Revolution is Indicated by News Received at British Consulate Saying Two More Towns Have Fallen.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 22.—The main army of the Chinese government, under War Minister Yin Tchang, said to number about 20,000 men, was totally defeated yesterday at Kwang Chul, Hopeh province, according to a cable received today by the Chinese Free Press, of this city. The rebel army of 15,000 under Li Yueng Huen, it is said, captured the artillery, baggage train and ammunition of the imperialists who retreated to Sha Got.

Cables received by local Chinese newspapers indicate the imperialists were completely routed and abandoned their supply trains during the retreat. The mountain pass at Kwang Shui, said to be of the greatest strategic value, is now held by the revolutionists. It governs the effectiveness of the Peking-Hankow railroad, over which imperial troops are being moved.

Governor Sun Fu Kee, of the province of Shan Tung, is reported to have narrowly escaped death yesterday when the rebels burned his house. He is now hiding in Peking, which is reported panic-stricken.

The full text of the joint despatch sent by Admirals Jui Chong and Sah Chen Ping, published in today's Chinese papers, shows there has been a sudden relaxation of the censorship over the wire, and news also that the ships before Hankow are of little use to the government. It says: "Fleet without coal and rice. We can only appeal to the throne to send Yin Tchang immediately with artillery." It described the battle of Hankow, saying the imperial troops drove the rebels from the station but lost so many wounded that they were unable to retain possession. A national assembly was called this afternoon. Proclamations have been issued calling for recruits to the Manchuria army. The rebels have declared all munitions of war contraband.

SHANGHAI, Oct. 22.—The British consul here is in receipt of a telegram from the consul at Hankow, saying that word has been received at Hankow that Changsha, in Hunan province, and Ichang, in Hopeh province, are in the hands of the rebels. It says shells fell in the German concessions during the recent Hankow engagement. The only casualty among foreigners was when the German marines were landing one of the party was shot through the hand.

PURITY DELEGATES ARE ANGRY AT HITCHCOCK

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22.—Action of the postal officials in refusing to admit to the mails the report of the Rockefeller vice investigation committee was severely criticised by delegates to the International Purity congress.

"Only a thousand copies of the report were printed," said a prominent anti-vice worker, "and they were to be sent only to earnest and mature workers in the cause of purity. The report contained facts of vital importance to sociological students, and the refusal to admit it to the mails is the report of 'obscenity' is an attitude which it is difficult to understand. If nothing is ever to be written or printed that could not be read by the proverbial 'innocent young person,' this country is in a bad way indeed. Vice flourishes in darkness and fattens on ignorance. If the hellish white slave traffic is to be exterminated and an end put to the host of evils that follow in its wake, we must have light."

WANT MORE RURALES.

JUAREZ, Oct. 22.—Gen. Vallaseor of Mexico City, inspector general of the rurales of Mexico, is here for the purpose of organizing three corps of rurales in the state of Chihuahua. The organization will be made up of ex-insurrectos of the Chihuahua corps and will be distributed through the southern portion of the state, extending to Parral. Others will be divided between Chihuahua City and here.
